SOCIETY

MISS BUNE ENTERTAINS.

Miss Violet Bune proved herself to be a charming little hostess last Wednesday afternoon, when she entertained the Busy Bee club at a party luncheon. The dining room was artistically decorated with the national colors, the places at the table being separated by ropes of crepe paper extending from the edge of the table to the center of the ceiling where they were fastened under a large red bell. Games and music were enjoyed during the afternoon.

Miss Melba Brookshire and Miss Oneda Holther rendered a pretty duet which was much appreciated, the little musicians showing much skill.

Miss Bune was assisted by Miss Anne Chastland in serving dainty refreshments to Misses Myrtle Huss, Oneda Holther, Maude Stratford, Melba Brookshire and Charlotte Skeen.

Each guest received a pretty souvenir in the form of a Fourth of July postcard.

NEW TRACK AND NEW CARS

Superintendent Joseph Bailey of the Rapid Transit company states that the track laying on the Interurban road to Brigham City is progressing nicely, a half mile of rail being laid each day.

The company has a good supply of rails and ties on hand and it is thought that there will be no further delay in the work. The graders are within a few miles of Brigham City, the grade having been completed from the Utah Hot Springs to that point.

The track laying crew is at work today at a point within about three miles of Willard and there is nothing in the way of the workers. As soon as the rails are laid for a certain distance, the crew then goes over the road and places the rails at grade. After this is all done it will require considerable work in ballasting the road.

The placing of the trolley wires on the telephone poles along the road will be undertaken as soon as the track-making is far enough advanced to demand the immediate operation of the cars over the line.

Mr. Bailey says the company has two new cars on hand today to be placed on the system in the city and in the canyon. The cars are modern in every respect and larger than any that have been put into use on the road up to this time. Each car has a seating capacity of 45 persons and is propelled by four 40-horsepower motors. The cost of the two cars will be about $12,000.

CITY PRISONERS TO BE CLIPPED

Men Sentenced to Ten Days in Jail Will Have Their Hair Cut Close to the Scalp.

To induce "undesirables" to move on and get out of the city, and to relieve the city of the expense of feeding them for a number of days in the city jail, Judge Murphy has heretofore been in the habit of pronouncing a suspended sentence of 90 or 99 days, but he has come to the conclusion that it hardly meets the ends of justice.

Many of the men who are given a "floater" sentence—the name given in police court parlance to the suspended sentence—do not appreciate it and they return within a short time with the expectation that the same penalty will be meted out to them.

Hereafter, it is said by the judge, there will be no "floaters" handed out to the criminal element, except in rare cases, and it is also planned that the men sent to the city jail shall be put at hard labor. The streets of the city, the canyon road and boulevard and many other places need repairing and remodeling. On them these fellows can well earn their board and lodging while they are the guests of the city.

The police court officials are now determined to make Ogden a very undesirable place for the criminal element, and it is quite certain that heretofore those who fall victims to the clutches of the law will have something to do while they remain in the city.

It is also proposed that a mark of distinction be given the men in the city jail, and to begin with, the regulars will be required to submit to have their hair closely clipped. That is, the men sentenced to ten days or more shall be clipped and they shall keep themselves reasonably clean.

The hair clipping order will likely be kept in force until the cold weather sets in, when it is expected, some other inexpensive plan of marking them will be adopted.

The "clipping" rule was attempted to be enforced yesterday, but most of the men rebelled, positively declaring that they would not submit to the process. Some, however, were perfectly willing to have their hair clipped.

There is a question as to whether the prisoners can be forced to the rule, but Attorney De Vine says he thinks there is no question but that the police department can legally enforce such regulation. It can be done in the interests of better sanitation in the city jail, if nothing else, he says.

THEY CAME FROM THE FIGHT

Friday afternoon the police department of Ogden was advised by telegram that quite an army of men were beating their way on the railroad trains toward the eastern country, and that they would land in Ogden during the early part of the evening.

To guard against the possibly commission of crime during the sojourn of the tramps in the city, Chief Browning decided to meet the train when it arrived and arrest the men and take them to the station for an explanation as to where they were going and what their financial condition is. The roundup was made and something like twenty-five men were arrested and locked up in the city jail for the night. The crowd was peaceable and the officers stating that there was not a bad looking man in the entire lot.

Yesterday morning the men were arraigned before Judge Murphy in the municipal court, charged with vagrancy. Those who pleaded guilty were sentenced to ten days at hard labor. Some who pleaded not guilty were placed under bonds of $10 each until Monday, when witnesses can be had in court to testify against them. Others who pleaded guilty were given a hearing and they endeavored to explain their financial condition by stating why they were beating their way over the railroad instead of being at work on some respectable job.

The story told by most of these men was that they had been to the big fight, lost their money and were on the way home or to some place where they could get work. One man, giving his name as McCabe, stated that at Montello, Nevada, he and others were ordered to "move on" by the sheriff, and were authorized to board the train and ride. The train crew Spunking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child—this treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

also told them to "get on" and leave the country.

"We were virtually forced to ride into this city," the man said, "and, being without means, we may be considered 'vags.' There was nothing for us to do but come this way. It has been quite impossible for all of us to get work in the country between this city and Reno, and we have to go somewhere. I am not a vagrant and I nearly always have money, but I spent it all this time. Some was lost on the fight, some spent for whisky and some for living."

Two seventeen-year-old boys, Lee Kelsey, colored, and Harry Eckhart, were among the gang, and they were told by Judge Murphy that they would be well for them to get a good start for home at an early time, or they would be sent to the reform school. The lads stated that they would go at a rapid pace and would try to keep from such trouble in the future. The boys said they had a desire to see the big fight and that, while at Reno, they lost what little money they had.
